Ogden Murphy Wallace Announces Daniel P. Kenny as a New Member

Ogden Murphy Wallace is pleased to announce the appointment of Daniel P. Kenny as a Member of the firm.

“We are happy to welcome Daniel to the firm’s membership. His knowledge and legal expertise, especially in municipal and telecommunications matters, have become an invaluable asset to the firm and its clients” said Geoff Bridgman, the firm’s Managing Member.

Daniel Kenny represents local governments as city attorney and special counsel on a wide range of municipal issues, including land use, public works, public records, and policy. He has specific experience with the constitutional issues implicated by local sign regulations and has been a featured presenter on sign code topics. Daniel also advises municipalities on telecommunications related matters, working with them to negotiate telecommunications and cable franchises, lease agreements, pole attachment agreements, drafting right of way use ordinances and zoning codes.
